MINNESOTA

Miss Jeanne Tellier, of Dakota County, Minn., has been a club member ever since she arrived at club age. Best known for her work in baby beef project but she has made excellent records also in the canning, sewing, bread making, and poultry projects. Each year of the six she was in the baby beef cattle club she was in the competition at the Junior Livestock Show. In her third year in this project she exhibited the reserve champion steer, and in 1927 was awarded the McKerrow trophy for being the most outstanding club member, with a long time record, at this club show. Calf club work won for her a trip to the Chicago International and a place on two Great Northern junior livestock trains touring the northwest. Her three years in the canning project earned her many honors in her home county and two trips to the Minnesota State Fair, where her team placed third one year and had the champion state canning exhibit another year. In sewing, poultry raising, and bread making she had many fine achievements but she is proudest of all, she says, of her leadership work the last three years.

MINNESOTA (Continued)

Miss Annie Pederson, of Hubbard County, Minn., has been in club work 5 years. Her first trip to the State Fair as a bread maker was won in 1925. At the 1927 fair she won a $100 scholarship for placing first in the quick bread contest. In 1928 she and her team-mate won the county, district, and state contest for Class B demonstration teams and were awarded a trip to the National Club Congress in Chicago. Her work as a leader of club juniors dates back to 1926 when she enrolled a class of 12 in baking.

Mr. Alden Flygare, of Martin County, Minn., has a herd of 5 purebred Holstein cows and a flock of 200 White Rocks, accumulated as a result of his club work.
